If you're looking for entry level housing and an opportunity to get started in the market, or to get a great return on your investment, look no further than 19 Solandra Street Nambour.

After a long-term tenancy that is no longer in place, the current owners have had an opportunity to refresh in certain areas with a lick of paint, new oven and new kitchen benchtops.

With floorboards throughout upstairs, you'll find three bedrooms all with built in robes and ceiling fans, one bathroom and a light filled kitchen. A combined living/dining room with access to two high-set balconies allows you to take in the great views and enjoy refreshing breezes.
